

Equip Information Kiosks For Children's Information Services

Incorporating:

In order to meet the requirements for information under the Childcare Act, many councils are offering families information about childcare and support by using high-tech information kiosks in children's centres.

The Equip FIS kiosk range comes as a complete package combining hardware, software, installation and on going maintenance. The Equip kiosk product has been adopted by over 15 councils and over 100 units have been installed. The kiosks provide information about early education, family support, outreach, health services and training and job opportunities.
