Cammax RFID kiosks installed at Atlanta Waterpark

Cammax worked alongside a US based company specialising in fast tracking theme park solutions to develop the world's first RFID Fast Track kiosks for Six Flags Waterpark in Atlanta, Georgia.

The 12 outdoor kiosks were installed in the US waterpark in May and have been a huge success with visitors to the park.

The kiosks incorporate RFID technology which allows visitors to purchase a wrist band for $15 which allows you to get in a virtual line for the attraction of your choice.

The Six Flags virtual ride reservation system holds your place in line electronically, so visitors can spend more time around the park at popular attractions and less time stood waiting in queues. When it is almost time for your turn on the ride, an alert is sent to your Flash Pass device.

The Cammax fast track kiosk is helping reduce queues and improve overall visitor experience at the park.
